

Baronial Court of Their Excellences Jean Phillip and Catherine, at Bog camp in the Great Pennsic War, Coopers Lake campground, New Castle, PA. August 11, 2022

Their Excellencies greeted those assembled and had them seek their comfort. His Excellency spoke of the Great Plague that kept us all apart for so long, and how happy it made him and Catherine to finally have Their Bog family together again this Pennsic.

Their Excellencies called for Zafira al Bahariya, Pherson and Kylfa Radomirsson to attend Them. Their Excellencies spoke of all the hard work these three had done for our camp. Their Excellencies gave them tokens of appreciation for a job well done.

Their Excellencies next called for Master Iago Benitez. His Excellency personally thanked Master Iago for the wise words Iago gave to His Excellency prior to stepping up at Baron. The advice, you ask? Always pee before Kingdom Court.

Their Excellencies requested the presence of Lord Jason Teague. Their Excellencies spoke of Jason's helpful nature--always being there in any capacity necessary, and how vital a part of the Bog he has become. For this, they awarded him a Golden Cattail. (No scroll.)

Their Excellencies next summoned Lord Eadmond of Eoforwiscir. Wanting to thank Lord Eadmond for his skills and never-ending service, Lord Eadmond was presented with a Golden Cattail. Pherson, Eliza Allison and Radomir Bakalarz were next called before Their Excellencies. As this was their first time fighting at Pennsic, His Excellency told fierce battle stories about each warrior and presented them with a token to commemorate their experiences.

Their Excellencies requested the presence of Naimh bean Bahrain vi Labradha. Their Excellencies spoke of Naimh's masterful work as autocrat of Their investiture event and dubbed her Hearth Maker. Naimh was presented with a Golden Cattail and a token of appreciation from Their Excellencies

Biorn inn Digri was next requested by Their Excellencies. They spoke of how, no matter what was going on, Biorn would stop what he was doing, or was going to do, to help with anything needed by Them. Their Excellencies presented Biorn with a token of thanks.

Next, Her Excellency, Rosheen, begged leave to address those assembled. With leave granted, Rosheen spoke of the hallowed tradition of House Dragon Ass, and asked the following individuals to step forward to receive their Dragon Ass tokens: Eliza Allison, Sidor and Simone. Having given out the tokens, Rosheen hurriedly tried to return Court to more pressing business when Her Excellency, Catherine, reminded a very absent-minded Rosheen that she, too, needs to be inducted into House Dragon Ass. Her Excellency, Rosheen, did NOT try to run out of Court while being held back by Her Excellency, Catherine, nor was a Dragon Ass token forcibly thrust into Rosheen's possession with such persistence that Rosheen humbly (sadly) accepted her fate.

There being further business for another time, the Court was suspended.

Their Excellencies re-opened Court and requested to see Iollan Figg before Them. Iollan was asked to regale those assembled with a bridge battle story, as it was his first time fighting at Pennsic. His story was well received and Their Excellencies presented him with a token to commemorate the occasion.

Iollon was asked to stay in Court as his lady wife, AEsa Meinfretr, was called before Their Excellencies. Rosheen asked leave to tell an abridged version of the House Dragon Ass story, and presented Iollan and AEsa with Dragon Ass medallions while telling them these words, "teach the young, we need them...to help our poor dragon asses in our old age".

There being no further business, the Court of John Phillip and Caterine, Baron and Baroness of St. Swithin's Bog, was closed.

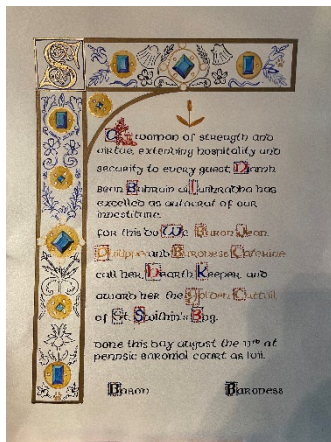

Reported by Baroness Rosheen filling in for Mistress AElfra

Illumination by Serena Milan

Words by Baroness Caterine

Calligraphy by Mistress Cynthia

Illumination THL Sasson

Words by Baroness Caterine

Calligraphy Mistress Cynthia